Explore the Possibilities

If you are career oriented and are interested in being a part of the ever growing medical field, then a career as a CERTIFIED PHLEBOTOMY TECHNICIAN can be your road to FINANCIAL FREEDOM!

Phlebotomists are health care professionals who are trained to collect blood specimens from patients by venipuncture and microcollection techniques. Healthcare professionals are constantly in great demand among clinical laboratories, health centers and hospitals.

In 80 hours you can complete your training program (40 hours of classroom instruction followed by 40 hours in medical environment) applying skills learned in the classroom!

Regan Career Institute faculty is comprised of Certified Phlebotomy professionals that have experience and training to promote the highest level of training

The RCI Phlebotomy program is presented in a lively, yet focused format with interactive instruction and hands-on activities.

Mission Statement

RCI strives to provide students with superior training and the best possible education to successfully pursue a career in healthcare.
